

Central Coast Aussie Nash Hash 2023

The Central Coast Aussie Nash Hash Committee held a meeting recently to talk about the progression of our event. There was basically one point of discussion - registrations to date.

As of last Friday (25 February) there were just 120 registrations. Being just one year out from the event this is not the result that we would have liked. In 2005 when we co-hosted the event we had 400 registrations twelve months out and I believe that Adelaide had over 600.

In order to run a successful and viable event we would require a minimum of 400 participants to break even. As it stands at present, we can't see another 300 registering before cut-off dates for giveaway purchases.

Therefore, we have made the heartbreaking decision not to go ahead with Central Coast Aussie Nash Hash 2023.

In a year or two when the current situation has finally come to an end and hashers are more comfortable with attending events, we have no doubt another club will put their hand up to host a very successful Aussie Nash Hash.

To date we have only outlaid a small amount of money so we are reasonably confident that all who have registered will get a 100% refund. If we can't offer this, a worst-case scenario will be a small reduction in refund of $1.50 each.

We will email all who have registered in the next few weeks to advise how to obtain your refund.

This decision was not made lightly but taking everything into consideration, we really had no choice.

Thank you to everyone who has supported us is trying to get this Nash Hash off the ground.

ON ON Patsy and Ballpoint

P.S. On the weekend of 17th to 20th March 2023 to celebrate what would have been Darwin Don's 100th birthday there is a Hash Relay in Port Macquarie (I think). As a prelude to this on what was to be Aussie Nash Hash 2023 we are thinking of doing a "Not Aussie Nash Hash 2023" weekend. More details later.
